William Lux, aged 22, whose home is in Seattle, while passing between two cars at Thistle Junction, was knocked down and run over, one foot being caught under the car wheel, severing two toes, breaking another and lacerating the bottom of the foot.

J. H. Casady, a tunnel worker for the Western Pacific, in alighting from an incoming train in Salt Lake City, was thrown against a switch and literally scalped. His skull was laid bare for several inches in four different places. He will recover, however.

Joe Garcia, the Mexican believed to be implicated with Joe Sullivan in the murder of Policeman Ford in Salt Lake City, died at Seattle, where he was shot by officers while resisting arrest, without making a statement admitting his guilt of the crime of murder.

After suffering terrible agony for fifteen hours from the effects of taking a bichloride of mercury tablet, the two-year-old son of James A. Kilenbeard, of Salt Lake, is dead. The tablets were on a table, the little one getting hold of them unknown to its parents.

While Jackson Hunt, a farmer living near Hooper, was walking in a pasture near his home, an infuriated bull attacked him, breaking six ribs.

But for the assistance of neighbors who drove the maddened beast away, it is probable that he would have been killed.

Efforts are being made by those in charge of the fifth annual celebration of the U. C. T. association, which will be held in Salt Lake City, June 18, 19 and 20, to secure rates over all roads in the state. Present indications are they will be given a rate of one fare for the round trip.

Frank C. Boyer, one of Springville's most prominent citizens, died on May 12 of la grippe and its attending complications, after an illness of thirteen weeks. Mr. Boyer was born in Union county, Pennsylvania, in 1833, and came to Utah in 1853, settling at Springville in 1856.

Lloyd Ivy had his nose broken as the result of a fall from a broncho which he was riding at Ephraim. The horse became frightened while coming down Main street, and in the attempt to control it Ivy was thrown to the ground, and was found unconscious shortly afterward.
